

Civeo Statement on Borealis Lodge

HOUSTON--MAR. 20, 2020--Civeo Corporation (NYSE:CVEO)

Civeo today confirmed that a guest at the Civeo-operated Borealis Lodge in Alberta, Canada, was transported from the Lodge for medical evaluation and treatment upon observation of symptoms consistent with COVID-19. The guest was screened upon arrival at the Lodge and exhibited no symptoms at that time. The next morning (3/19), the guest began to feel unwell and transportation and medical evaluation was arranged.

During this event, Civeo:

- Followed its stringent screening protocol that applies to all guests, employees, contractors, and suppliers when individuals arrive at the lodge, during which no symptoms were disclosed;
- Implemented its quarantine and isolation protocol, which included closing-off the individual's room;
- Ensured safe transport of the guest to a Ft. McMurray hospital via ambulance and communicated with the individual's medical team and employer, a contractor for Civeo's customer;
- Conducted an investigation that found the guest spent less than twelve hours on location, most of which was overnight in their quarters, and completed a deep sanitization for all areas in which the individual was present or assumed present, in accordance with guidelines established through prior consultation with Civeo's medical advisor;
- Continued controlled access into the Lodge's common areas coupled with social distancing practices; and
- Promptly notified all guests and staff at the Lodge while ensuring strict enforcement with established protocols.

The individual has been tested for COVID-19 and results are pending.

A written notice was provided yesterday to all guests and staff at Borealis lodge. In this notice, Civeo refers to the guest as a "presumptive positive case". To be clear, this is a possible case of COVID-19, not a presumptive positive case. The guest has symptoms consistent with COVID-19, has been tested and is awaiting results.

The internal notice was written with an abundance of caution and sense of urgency to ensure guests and staff were promptly notified. Civeo chose to err on the side of caution while in the process of collecting all of the facts. The correct terminology is possible case, not presumptive positive case.

Civeo management is monitoring the situation closely and continuing to take aggressive action to ensure the safety of all guests, staff, suppliers and others at all facilities operated by the company.
